

LOSING HOPE WOMAN VERY ILL

Finally Restored To Health
By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bellefonte, Ohio.—"I was in a terrible state before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back ached until I thought it would break, I had pains all over me, nervous feelings and periodic troubles. I was very weak and run down and was losing hope of ever being well and strong. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I improved rapidly and today am a well woman. I cannot tell you how happy I feel and I cannot say too much for your Compound. Would not be without it in the house if it cost three times the amount."—Mrs. CHAS. CHAPMAN, R. F. D. No. 7, Bellefonte, Ohio.

Woman's Precious Gift.
The one which she should most zealously guard, is her health, but it is the one most often neglected, until some ailment peculiar to her sex has fastened itself upon her. When so affected such women may rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a remedy that has been wonderfully successful in restoring health to suffering women.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

PARKER'S HAIR BALM
A toilet preparation of merit. Restores Color and Beauty to Gray or Faded Hair. No. 1. Sold Everywhere.

Paxtine
A Soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed For Douches

In the local treatment of woman's ills, such as leucorrhoea and inflammation, hot douches of Paxtine are very efficacious. No woman who has ever used medicated douches will fail to appreciate the clean and healthy condition Paxtine produces and the prompt relief from soreness and discomfort which follows its use. This is because Paxtine possesses superior cleansing, disinfecting and healing properties.

For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been relieved say it is "worth its weight in gold." At drug stores. No. 1. Large box or by mail. Sample free. The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

A Leading Question.
In the blue days between Christmas and New Year's, when a printing order would have caused either of them to start an inquest to determine the sanity of the customer, two printers met in the corridor, says Associated Advertising.

"Just transacted some business," quoth one.
"Now," said the other, in a tone to tease a former response.
"Yes, I did—I just mailed a letter," said the first.
To which the other responded, breathlessly, "Tip me off—where'd you get the two cents?"

IS CHILD CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children treat this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is waste, over gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all this constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well child again. Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless, children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

Identification.
"That handsome woman over there is a widow of one of the Jiggs brothers."
"Which brother is she the widow of?"
"The dead one."

"Ain't No Sick Animals."
"Why won't you engage her as a cook?"
"She signed her letter of application, 'Your obedient servant.'"

Heard at the Club.
"Hello, old chap, killing time?"
"No, dear boy, just waiting for it to die a natural death."

THINK LITTLE OF LIFE

MURDER A COMMON OCCURRENCE AMONG PAPUANS.

Seems to Them the Most Natural Thing in the World to Put End to Existence of Enemies or the Troublesome.

Papua has long been known as a bloody land. It is a bloody land still but the blood of white men is rarely let; and the wanton slaughter of natives the one by the other—at least in those fast-widening regions where are within the sphere of the law—fast diminishing, says a writer in Harper's Magazine. All this being so, it is one year, nevertheless, when there were 215 prisoners committed for trial, nine with manslaughter and five with attempted murder. To the civilized mind the motives to murder, shocking enough, to be sure—not wanting an aspect of gruesome humor—are upon occasion incredible. As they are matters of record, however, disclosed upon painstaking investigation, they are to be accepted, not as irresponsible tales, such as wander about the eastern seas, but as substantial facts, however singular and incomprehensible they may appear. It is a matter of court record, for example, that certain natives of what is called the coast range, being upon trial for the murder of two carriers, whose throats they had cut, admitted the deed without the least hesitation, and sought to justify the ghastly business upon the ground that the carriers had appeared to be "cold and hungry"—defeated fellows, far away from their village. The prisoners had not eaten the carriers. They had merely—with the most considerate expedition—cut the throats of the carriers, who were strangers, at any rate, and therefore of no great consequence; and no ingenuity of cross-questioning could elicit a motive ulterior to the one so ingeniously advanced—that the carriers, appearing to be "cold and hungry," were, in the opinion of the gentlemen who had incontinently cut their throats, much better dead.

A similar case of merciful extermination concerned a young native, employed to shoot game for a white planter, who encountered a sick man, (Papuans) on the road, near by a river, and strangled him to death. Upon trial he explained that the sick man had created annoyance, and a considerable embarrassment, as well, by insistently requesting to be carried across the river to the other side, when his way lay forward to his village.

"Quite so," said the presiding officer. "Why, then, didn't you carry him across the river?"
"He was too heavy," replied the native. "It would have put me to a great deal of trouble."
"Why did you kill him?"
"What else could I do? The man was sick."

It was out of the question to endure the labor of carrying the sick man across the river. It was equally out of the question to abandon the pitiable object. Therefore the bewildered fellow had strangled him—the most obvious way out of a dilemma which bade fair to distress his feelings.

Leakage of Gasoline.
The mysterious loss of gasoline, which embarrassed the polar expeditions of Scott and Amundsen, and which was the principal cause of the disaster that befell the former, has been made the subject of investigation by several persons, and a very plausible explanation is made by B. T. Brooks of the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, in an article in Science. He has observed that at low temperatures ordinary tin is liable to be converted into the allotropic form, gray tin powder. This change takes place at a maximum rate at 48 degrees Centigrade, and may occur more slowly at other temperatures below that point. Hard solder, which may contain 65 per cent tin, is subject to the same process of disintegration. Hence the danger of leakage along the solder seams of the container—a fact that should be duly considered by future polar expeditions.

Wheeling on Rubber Roads.
Considerable interest has prevailed in England for some time over the suggestion of using rubber for street pavements. Trial sections of such surfacing were laid in the old Kent road, in London, some time ago, as this street carries part of the heaviest traffic of the city, and recently a specimen of this pavement was exhibited.

The wood block pavement adjoining had worn down from an eighth to a quarter of an inch, but in the same time the rubber-capped wood blocks appeared as good as new; and it would appear from these tests that rubber pavements would be so durable as to make them an economic investment.

Easy to Open Gate.

A simple device for the operation of the heavy and cumbersome barnyard gate is that of attaching a wheel to the free or swinging end. In many instances farm gates are so long that the ordinary hinge is not strong enough to support the entire weight, and it is necessary to allow the free end to rest on the ground. The use of a wheel makes it unnecessary to lift the gate when it is desired to open or close it.

BOTH ORATORS AND WRITERS

English Newspaper Comments on Dual Qualities of Those Who Have Been Called Great.

An enticing subject for discussion is the writer as orator. It is, of course, undeniable that the mental processes belonging to the two orders of expression are wholly different, but, says a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, I should challenge very strongly the contention that the good writer is seldom a good speaker. Putting aside Burke, Gladstone, Bright and others who cannot properly be put into classes, I submit that the number of modern writers who have been fine speakers is very large. Canning and Disraeli could write and speak equally well. Macaulay, although, as you remark, he memorized his speeches, was among the great parliamentary orators of the reform era. The memorizing, by the way, was not his fault. He could not help knowing word for word everything that he prepared, and he accomplished the extraordinary feat of writing out for publication in his last years, when he was too ill for original work, the orations which he had spoken ten or twenty years earlier.

Coleridge, his admirers thought, was a marvelous speaker. Dickens was almost without a rival after dinner. Public speaking was a torment to Ruskin as to Carlyle, but those who heard him never forgot the experience. Matthew Arnold was a poor speaker. Thackeray on the platform was pitiful. But let me suggest a few other examples. Lord Rosebery is an orator and an accomplished author. Mr. Balfour, when he likes, can write like an angel, and there are few more deadly debaters.

Lord Morley will live as a writer, but he has made great speeches. Lord Curzon writes exactly as he speaks, and with about equal facility and force. In their entirely different ways Lord Haldane and Mr. Birtrell enjoy the dual faculty. They consider Mr. Chesterton and Bernard Shaw, in certain respects the greatest masters of public speech as of written English alive today. And not to extend the list, there is W. B. Yeats, in whom are combined poetic genius, a fine command of prose and a gift of speech which at its best is perfect.

Uncle Sam's Name.

Like many other popular customs, the general acceptance of the name "Uncle Sam" is traceable to a small incident. The occurrence is just 100 years old, and is associated with Troy, N. Y., where, after the war of 1812, Elbert Anderson, an army contractor, purchased a quantity of provisions. One of the official provision inspectors was Samuel Wilson, who, because of his popularity, was generally referred to as "Uncle Sam Wilson."

The boxes of provisions were stamped E. A. U. S., the first two being the initials of Elbert Anderson and the last two the usual abbreviation for United States. When one of the men engaged in the work of transferring the boxes was asked one day what the letters stood for, he replied, jokingly, that they stood for Elbert Anderson and Uncle Sam, meaning Wilson.

The remark "caught on," and after being communicated from point to point in army circles spread over the country.

Room for Two.

When a talk about the German invasion of England was going on, a militiaman, stationed in Carrickfergus, was heard to remark that immediately the enemy landed in England he would certainly bolt, taking a good stock of provisions, and hide in a convenient cave he knew of.

The colonel, hearing of his unpatriotic resolve, called him out next day on parade, and lectured him severely on his cowardice.

"You're a disgrace to the regiment and the Service-at-large," he cried. "Fancy you threatening to run away, but I'd be after you in quick time, my man, never fear."

"Sure, an' you'd be welcome, your honor, but bring yer own praties an' things, won't yer, colonel?"—London Tit-Bits.

Tin Rapidly Disappearing.

With regard to the future use of tin, it may be said that we are dealing with the one metal whose known reserves are entirely inadequate to even the present demands and that unless some new source of supply is developed very soon we may expect to find that tin is a very scarce metal indeed.

Of the present sources of tin ore supply, says the Engineering Magazine, most are either stationary or receding in output, Bolivia being the only one which gives promise of permanency and of future growth. Under these conditions the question of substitute metals becomes of importance, and aluminum, zinc and steel all have some possibility in this direction in one way or another.

"CASCARETS" FOR SLUGGISH BOWELS

No sick headache, sour stomach, biliousness or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out to-night and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach. Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret to-night straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never gripe or sicken. Adv.

She Was Glad.

"Yes, I took out an accident insurance policy today. These slippery sidewalks got on my nerves."
"But the policy won't keep you from slipping?"

"No, but if I do slip and fall I'll get $25 a week as long as I'm disabled."
"I'm so glad you got the insurance, George. Because I gave your new rubbers today to a poor man who said his shoes leaked."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DRINK LOTS OF WATER TO FLUSH THE KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat and Take Salts for Backache or Bladder Trouble—Neutralize Acids.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, and to neutralize the acids in urine, so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

FARMERS WHO SUCCEED IN WESTERN CANADA

Those Who Exercise Thrift, Practice Due Economy, and Adopt Reasonable Methods Are Sure to Prosper.

Those who are interested in developing the agricultural resources of Western Canada in bringing to the notice of those whom they desire to take part in this development present only the fact that farming in Western Canada could be carried on without effort or labor, but it has been successfully stated that better results can be secured with less outlay of capital, either in money or labor, than anywhere else on the continent. This has been proven time and time again. Hundreds of cases could be cited where men have taken up farms, either a homestead, or purchased from railways or land companies, and with little capital at the start have acquired a competence, have established good homes for themselves, and provided a sure future. They have comfortable homes and all their surroundings are comfortable, speak of the reward that their thrift has accomplished.

Carl Dickan, of Russian Poland lived in Pittsburgh, Pa., for fourteen years, and saved up $900. In 1903 he took the $900 with him to Alberta. His own story is that he bought a quarter section, for which he agreed to pay $1,200. "In 1904 I had thirty acres of crop, threshed 900 bushels. In 1909 I bought another quarter. I now have one hundred acres under cultivation, and have never had a crop failure. Have threshed forty-seven bushels of wheat per acre, but the average has been about forty. My cats for the eleven years that I have been here averaged forty-seven bushels to the acre. I now have 9 horses, 47 head of cattle, 33 hogs. I consider worth $2,600. I have a thousand dollars worth of farm implements and my land is worth $8,000. This is all clear of debt. I have every reason to consider this a first-class mixed farming, dairying and poultry raising country, as I think that it is apparent that I have had some success. The only help that I had was my oldest boy, who was 8 years old when I arrived in Alberta."

About fifty miles west of Wetaskiwin there is a partially timbered district lying between Buck Lake and Pigeon Lake. All this land is ready for homesteading, and judging from a letter received by a resident there, this would seem to be an ideal place for a farmer who desired such surroundings. This settler lives on the shore of Buck Lake, his land is willow brush, which is easy to clear. Some of the lumber is good saw timber, and lots of good logs for buildings can be had, as well as rails for fencing. For wheat growing the soil is excellent. Water is easily secured, fishing is good and plentiful and game is anything but scarce. The settlers are mostly from the United States and Canada.—Advertisement.

Gave Himself Away.
The general was distributing medals for special valor. Summoning Private Bumptious to step forward, much to the general surprise of the ranks, he thundered out:

"Men, look upon this hero, and imitate his bravery! All through the long night he stood firm at his sentinel's post, although completely surrounded by the enemy, and there he remained calmly."

Private Bumptious turned deadly pale. Before he fell in a faint to the ground, he gasped out:

"Then they were enemies! I thought they were our own troops."

Necessary Publicity.

Small Daughter—Mother, why does it say "At home February 29" on Mrs. Morgan Jones' card?

Mother—Mrs. Jones, my dear, is an anti-fratrist and she feels it necessary to publicly announce that she is at home once in every year.—Puck.

Remembered Old Formula.
The late Mayor Gaylor of New York related a little anecdote while in hospital after an anarchist's attempt upon his life. "I know a man over my way," he said with a smile, "who had formerly been a bartender. Going into politics, he was elected police judge, Mary McMannis was up before him for drunkenness. The ex-bartender looked at her for a moment and then said sternly:

"Well, what are you here for?"
"If yer please, yer honor, the copper beyan't puller me in, sayin' I was drunk. An' I don't drink, yer honor; I don't drink."

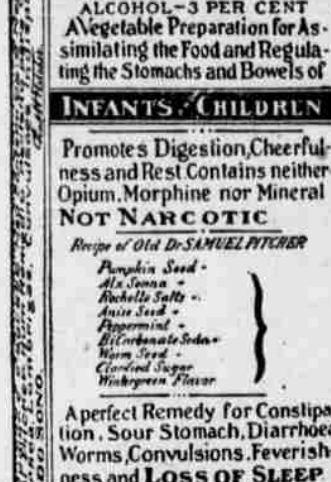

"All right," said the justice absent-mindedly, "all right; have a cigar."

Little to Eat.
"These Mexicans would rather fight than eat."

"Well, the facilities for fighting seem to be vastly superior to those for eating."

SAGE TEA DARKENS GRAY HAIR TO ANY SHADE. TRY IT!

Keep Your Locks Youthful, Dark, Glossy and Thick With Garden Sage and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger. Adv.

It is easy to define a lowbrow. He is a man who admits he is one.

Put Off Old Age

Some old folks are bent and shaky. Others are straight and strong. It can't be mere "oldness" that works such havoc. No—it's too often uric acid. Fight off this life-sapping poison. Help the kidneys take it from the blood. To aid them, live carefully and stimulate their action with the old reliable medicine, Doan's Kidney Pills.

A Missouri Case

"My Father Told a Story" Mrs. E. D. Conner, 808 Eagle St., Springfield, Mo., says: "I would be in the grave were it not for Doan's Kidney Pills. My body bloated until I couldn't stoop to pick up anything and the doctors said there was no hope for me. My kidneys were in awful shape. Today I am cured and doing my own work without suffering. Doan's Kidney Pills are responsible for this cure."
